

EARLY MORNING FIRE SWEEPSTOWN OF ARENZVILLE

Flames Originate in Well's Saloon—Loss Approximately $50,000

Nearly All of Business Section of West Side of City Destroyed—Seven Buildings Consumed Before the Fire Was Checked—Motor Truck From Jacksonville Rushed to the Scene.

Arenzville, Oct. 21.—Fire which started in the Wells' saloon about eleven o'clock Saturday night totally destroyed nearly all of the business section of the north side of the city and entailed a loss of approximately $50,000. The buildings and businesses occupying them were:

Wells Saloon.
Herman's hardware store and living apartments in the second story.
Smith & Barnhart's barber shop.
Zulauf's meat market.
Arenzville Independent Printing office.
Simon Finner's saloon.
William Nobis shoe shop.

The building occupied by J. H. Wells in which the fire started is a two story frame structure. Mr. Wells had a sleeping apartment over the saloon and it is thought that the fire started from a stove in the room. It burned so rapidly that there was little opportunity to save the stock which was almost a total loss.

Spread to Hardware Store.
From the Wells building the flames spread to the Herman hardware store next door and then to the row of frame buildings in the same block. These were occupied by the Smith and Barnhart barber shop, Zulauf's meat market, William Nobis shoe shop and the Arenzville Independent printing office.

Wells' Saloon Destroyed.
Mr. Herman had his residence over the hardware store and was able to save some of his furniture but nothing was gotten out of the store. The fixtures were saved in the barber shop and Zulauf was able to get out all of his meat. The loss to his fixtures and to the fixtures and stock of the printing office and shoe shop was total. The Arenzville Independent was the last building in the block and the flames stopped there.

However, before they were gotten under control they spread to the saloon of Simon Finner and destroyed the building and contents, but little of the stock being saved. A bakery stood next to the Finner saloon and a lively stable across the street and it looked for a time as if they too would burn. The fire was halted at the bakery however, and gotten under control about 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

When the fire was at its height the Nieman building across the street occupied by a picture theater on the lower floor and a residence above caught fire. By hard work the building was saved. Desperate work also saved the drug store of Herman Brothers and the jewelry store of J. F. Thyen, both located on the south side of the street directly across from the flames.

No Fire Equipment.
Arenzville has no regular fire department and its equipment consists of a chemical engine. This was of little use when the fire got started. A call for help was sent to Jacksonville and at 12:26 this (Sunday) morning Commissioner Martin, Chief Huff with Earl Williams as driver started for Arenzville arriving at 1:25 o'clock. The flames were under control when they arrived.

The building occupied by Finner was owned by Herman Brothers. Wells owned his building as did the Herman's one. Occupied as a hardware store. The buildings in which the shoe shop, printing office and meat market were located were owned by Mrs. A. L. Weeks. Mrs. L. R. Willie owned the building occupied by the barber shop.

It is understood that all of the buildings were insured, but just what the amounts were is not known. Nothing is known of the insurance on the stocks and fixtures that were destroyed. It is understood that Mr. Zulauf carried adequate insurance on his fixtures.

GERMAN-AMERICANS SHOW LOYALTY

Miller Weir Says Farmers of German Descent in Southern Illinois are "Doing Their Bit"—Made Addresses in Five Counties—Subscriptions Totaled Over $2,000,000

Mr. Miller Weir returned Saturday to Jacksonville after spending several days in the southern part of the state in the interest of the second liberty loan. Mr. Weir was representing the state auditor's office in the liberty loan campaign and spoke in five counties.

Meetings were held in Monroe, Jackson, Perry, Williamson and Massac counties. He considers the trip was a most successful one, as at the meetings which Mr. Weir held subscriptions for the loan in the five counties were over $2,000,000.

Three of the counties took all of the bonds apportioned to their districts. He reports the conditions in southern Illinois as being most prosperous and money plentiful. It seems that the whole people in this part of the state are thoroughly aroused to the war situation and are solidly backing the government. Bonds were sold at Marion, Williamson county to the amount of $890,000, while Jackson county subscribed $600,000 and Perry county subscribed $500,000.

Mr. Weir said: "I would like to say a word for American citizens of German-American descent. As far as loyalty to their country is concerned no class of citizens are more willing to do their share than are most of the German-Americans of our country. It is America first in this war and they are American citizens first." Mr. Weir expects to return tomorrow to St. Louis, where during the coming week he will continue his work in the interest of the liberty loan campaign.

TO CHANGE METHOD OF SELECTING MEN

Remaining Registrants Will Be Divided Into Five Classes

Details of Plan, Approved by President Wilson, Have Not Been Disclosed—Men With Dependents or Necessary to Any Important Industry Will Be Drawn Last.

Washington, Oct. 20.—A sweeping change in the machinery of the selective draft, based on the division of the 9,000,000 remaining registrants into five classes in order of their eligibility for military service was announced today by Provost Marshal General Crowder. Details of the plan, which has been approved by President Wilson (are not disclosed). It is calculated, however, to do away with virtually all complicated machinery of the first draft and to make the operations of the local boards hereafter little more than rubber stamp proceedings.

The plan will work out system conferences with local and district board officials and approved by the various state authorities. Its chief features are that every registered man will know his exact position and be able to arrange his affairs accordingly and that no man deemed necessary in any particular industry or needed at home to support his family will be called to the colors unless the military situation is desperate. Detailed regulations to govern the new system are now being made ready for distribution to local and district board members. General Crowder in a formal statement assures them that they will be given ample opportunity to familiarize themselves with these regulations before the machinery provided is called into use. As the next call to the colors is to be made under the new plan this assurance is taken to indicate that the second call is not to be expected before the first of the year, although no authoritative statement on this point was available tonight.

Text of Announcement.
Following is the text of the announcement:

"With the completion of the draft of the first army of 637,000 men a new system will be installed for the creation of succeeding armies, which will greatly lessen the labors of the local and district boards. So far as this has been accomplished that it is believed that under the new system 80 per cent of the work will be eliminated while the forms to be used will not exceed 20 in number as compared with approximately 182 forms which the present system requires.

"Along with the reduction of labor there will be provided a system which will classify each one of the nine millions of men who have not yet been inducted into military service in his place in the national scheme of defense. To do this it has been determined to obtain from each man complete information of a character which will definitely fix his economic worth as compared with his fellow registrant, and from the information thus obtained to place him in one of the five classes, each to be called in turn as the need arises.

Will Be Mailed All Registrants.
"The method of obtaining this information is thru a questionnaire, a series of questions calculated to produce the information required. This document will be mailed to each registrant not yet in service on a day to be fixed, seven days being given to each registrant to complete and return the same. Every opportunity will be offered to each man to complete his questionnaire fully and without error.

"The local boards will then examine each questionnaire and assign each registrant to one of five classes.
"These classes will be based upon every conceivable condition from the family or occupational standpoint, that should properly be advanced by a man desiring to be excused from military duty. Class one will be the first called for physical examination and service and when it is exhausted if the nation's needs are such as to make it necessary, class two will follow and thus each man registered will ultimately take his place if needed.

Board's Work Reduced.
"Every opportunity for appeal from such classification by the local board has been retained and perfected, but proceedings have been greatly simplified. The tedious work of the local boards has been practically eliminated by the production of a form to be known as number one thousand which will be the foundation stone of the new system. Thru its use all the laborious work of making and posting lists has been eliminated. All of the old docket sheets and records will be made unnecessary and by the arrangements of its columns the work of the local board will be reduced to a minimum.

"On this new form the complete history of each man's case will appear at a glance, beginning with his order number and ending with his induction into a military camp, while at the close of each day's work the local board is enabled to complete in a few minutes with a rubber stamp what has hitherto taken hours to complete. The system is such that it will present each case almost automatically to the local board.

Will Solve Problems.
"The completion of the new system will solve problems which have confronted the provost marshal general and caused him much concern. One of the most serious of these has been keeping together the great organization of the local and district boards which from a numerical viewpoint is of the strength of an army division; many of these officials have been clamoring for relief on account of the drain of their time and the new system will make it easily possible for them to continue their duties for which they have proven themselves eminently fitted.

"Another problem solved was the question of expediency of continuing the examination of the entire registry thus fixing each man's status. This would have involved a medical examination of each man whose physical condition might change from day to day thus making this great undertaking valueless.

"Again under the old system of exemption and discharge, it would have been necessary if the national need required it to send the exempted man to return for physical re-examination, while in the meantime his industrial or family status might have changed, thus involving endless appeals and confusion.

"The new system fixes a man's class and calls him in proper turn when he is needed. He will be examined physically only when needed. Thus the labors of the medical officers will be called for only when required. If the nation needs a half million men they will respond each in his turn fixed by his class.

"The man who can least be spared either as the head of a family or the head of a business necessary to the defense of the nation will be the last to go.

"The new plan is being made ready for the printer and will be submitted to the local board and district boards in ample time to enable them to familiarize themselves with it and thus approach their next draft with a thorough knowledge of its requirements."

URGES WORKING MEN TO BUY LIBERTY BONDS

Director of the State Department of Labor Issues Statement.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20.—In a statement tonight, Barney Cohen, director of the Illinois department of labor, urged workmen to buy liberty bonds because, he said, it is the working man who has the most at stake.

"The 5,000,000 organized workmen in the United States can, because of their organization and the fact that they are the most progressive and aggressive of the workers, lead in subscribing to the loan," Mr. Cohen stated. "This will set a fitting example for many of the working millions who are not yet affiliated with any labor unions. The labor unions can and will, I feel sure, meet this great test of patriotism and set a fitting example to unorganized labor or that will serve as one of the most inspiring pledges of loyalty and patriotism."

VOTE TO RETURN TO WORK

CONSUMERS BLAMED FOR SUGAR SHORTAGE

Manufacturers of Candies and Other Sweets Also Blamed by Food Administration.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Blame for the present sugar shortage north of Savannah and east of Pittsburgh is placed squarely on consumers and on manufacturers of candies and other sweets by the food administration.

In a statement today the food administration said that had its recent request for the curtailment of the use of sugar been heeded, present conditions would not exist and it again warned the people to economize until new supplies are available.

The administration made this explanation of its efforts to relieve the shortage:

"The food administration some days ago directed all manufacturers and distributors of sugar to cease sales to confectioners, syrup and luxury manufacturers, until Cuban supplies are available. By this means the sugar consumption of the area of plentiful sugar south of Savannah and west of Pittsburgh should be greatly reduced and thus expedite the arrival of beet sugar into sparse area.

"The purchase of more sugar by households than is needed from week to week only adds difficulties to the distributing agencies of the country which are co-operating loyally to minimize the period and intensity of shortage that exists in the northeastern states. Reports today show that many retailers in many cities in this section are during their best to have just distribution and hold prices but are having much difficulty with this hoarding consumer."

LIBERTY LOAN NEAR TWO BILLION MARK

Apparent Apathy of Middlewest, Southwest, and West Causes Concern.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The liberty loan campaign today progressed to the threshold of official expectation and paused. Treasury heads had hoped the $2,000,000,000 line would be crossed. Apparently the big total stopped just short of the mark, with an estimated total of $1,873,000,000.

The result means that the huge sum of $500,000,000 a day will have to be subscribed every day of the remaining week of the campaign with a handful of millions to spare, if the $5,000,000,000 goal is reached when subscription books close next Saturday night.

Official returns from the twelve reserve banks—representing subscriptions upon which the two per cent of the sum applied for actually has been paid into the reserve banks—increased during the day to within less than $1,000,000 of $1,200,000,000. As announced by the treasury tonight, the official returns, the estimated subscriptions and the quotas of the reserve districts were as follows:

The $5,000,000,000 total can be attained next week, officials asserted if there be not let up in the campaign and if districts in the middle-west, the southwest and the west are aroused from an apparent apathy which thus far has caused great concern.

GERMANY SCORES ON WATER SATURDAY

Teutons Sink Eleven Vessels Vessels in North Sea

Break Up Merchant Convoy, Sink Two Destroyers and Nine of the Twelve Convoyed Ships—French Bring Down Several Zeppelins.

Germany scored on the water in Saturday's news developments, which recorded the breaking up of a merchant convoy in the North Sea by raiding cruisers that sank two British destroyers and nine of the twelve convoyed ships. She suffered little less than a disaster in the air, however, when four and probably five Zeppelin airships believed to be returning from a raid on England were brought down in French territory by airplane and anti-aircraft gun fire. The sea tragedy cost the British the lives of 135 of officers and men on the destroyers who were left to their fate by the German raiders in their haste to escape, as were the crews of the sinking merchantmen. About one hundred of the merchant sailors however, are known to have reached the shore in boats or on British patrol craft. All but three of the trading ships were of Scandinavian nationality, most of them apparently being small vessels.

The character of the raiding warships is not exactly apparent. The British admiralty describes them as very fast and heavily armed, while Berlin in its report refers to them as "light sea fighting forces." They escaped the vigilance of the British guard ship under cover of darkness both on their outward and homeward trips.

The story of Germany's reverse in the air began with the account of a raid on England last night in which the bombs the Zeppelins dropped killed twenty-seven persons and injured fifty-three others. Reports soon began to be received, however, of Zeppelins being brought down in France. These were at first supposed to belong to an independent raiding fleet. Despatches from France late in the day, however, declared them to be raiders returning from England. They had appeared over French territory it was stated and were scattered to various parts of the country as the alarm went out and the French airmen rose in swarms to attack them.

If, as appears from the despatches, these were the airships which raided England, their struggle to get over the German territory was a long and desperate one, for those brought down were far from the sea when they fell. One of them chased thru several districts of central France before being finally disposed of. The fact that none of them dropped any bombs in France seems to indicate that they had exhausted their supply previously.

The situation of the minor Russian fleet which was caught by the Germans in the waters around the Gulf of Riga is apparently a desperate one. The Germans have now an exit to the Russians there while they are closing the route to the north by their operations for taking possession of Dago Island which Berlin reports say are proceeding according to the German plan.

On the western front the artillery battles are continuing both in Flanders and in the Aisne region but no infantry operations of moment are reported. In none of the other war areas either, have the operations been of a nature to command especial attention.

AIR RAID BRINGS DEATH TO MANY

Twenty Seven Killed and Fifty Three Injured Is Toll Taken by German Raiders.

London, Oct. 20.—Of the twenty-seven deaths reported as the result of last night's air raid, seven persons were killed outright by bombs that fell in the shopping district of London and 13 by a torpedo which destroyed three houses in the residential quarter. Of the latter victims eight belonged to one family—a mother and her infant, four girls and two boys. A lodger in the same house also was killed.

It is reported from an eastern county that seven Zeppelins remained overhead there for several hours last night and dropped fifty bombs, including a number of incendiary nature. No casualties resulted but a farm building and an inn were damaged and two horses were killed in a field. Most of the bombs dropped in the open country.

THE SOLDIER PRAYS.

Not of sell the soldier's thinking,
but of home and loved ones

So unceasing he is praying, for his
every act's a prayer.
He is leaving cheerful fireside, giving all he has to give,
For the freedom of the people, that
his country's honor live.
Tho he faces the black-mouthed
cannon with no word upon his lips.
Or the tempests on the waters, or
the sinking transport ships,
Tho he strikes to kill another yet
that striking is a prayer
When it's Liberty that's calling for
her sake to do and dare,
He is praying. Yes he's praying

when the voice of country calls
That's the tyrant's heel is grinding,
he must save her or she falls.
Then supreme o'er self he arises on
the day his homeland bleeds
And he rallies to her colors, there he makes his prayer in deeds.
And the spirit of his actions, tho
not couched in phrase or word Still is known by the All Father, at
the throne of grace is heard.

STATISTICS VS. FACTS.

Officials connected with the food administration, commenting on complaints concerning the shortage
of labor, denies that any such shortage exists. According to his statement, the munitions factories have not yet absorbed the unemployed
labor of the country. The administration, doubtless, has figures to substantiate this statement. It can prove by statistics that there are many unemployed men in the country, but it does not follow that there is no shortage of labor. Nor that any man who wants to work can not find ready employment.

AN ITEM OF WAR'S COST.

The estimate comes from the allies that each soldier wounded at the front entails a cost in money of over $40,000. As a first step he is carried by more than one man, to the nearest surgical post. He is then placed in an ambulance in charge of two or three men and taken to a field
hospital, where the services of several nurses are required. The next move, by ambulances and hospital
trains and ships, is to a base hospital, where many doctors and nurses
are kept busy. There the stay is several months for the seriously wounded. A pension follows, or quarters in a soldiers' home for the totally disabled. The case is followed up by measures to enable the fa-

jured man to make the most of whatever physical capacity may remain to him. All these things are necessary. It would be a shame to omit or slight any of them. But it must be evident that war expenditures will pile up to an extent unknown before. The weekly casualty
list along the western front is more,
even without general assaults, than
in any battle of our civil war.
Arrogant militarism has involved the leading nations in enormous expenditures, and there can be no real peace or security as long as it continues to be a menace.
says the Globe-Democrat. Germany is trying to bolster a lost cause
with floods of paper money. For itself the cost of the war has become a problem mixed up with a currency
of fictitious value, which is not the case in Great Britain, France or the United States. Neither are the Germans giving their wounded the thorough and humane treatment
now the rule among their adversaries. In fact, they are unable to do it if they would. They are on the defensive, and losing ground.

BE YOUR REAL SELF.

This is the day you should attend
church. There are so many things
the people of Morgan county have to be proud of, so many they should
thank the giver of all good for, and,
not least, so many things they
should pray for, that a little time
might profitably be given to serving the churches, or, if that does not suit you, in your homes, in your hearts, to give utterance to a sincere prayer in your own way, for guidance, for knowledge as to how
we can do most toward a solution
of our own and other peoples
troubles, to aid in the present state
of war in which we are involved, the welfare, morally and physically,
of the ones, sons or friends, who have been called to the service of their country. There are so many, very many, causes and persons that we
men and women are interested in,
that their hearts prompt utterance
to words of sympathy and endearment, that we should not be ashamed to say that we have addressed the Almighty in prayer and supplication that He may bless the good cause in which we have centered our hopes.

Why not for one day at least be honest with ourselves. Give expression to our real thoughts and feelings. Nearly all play a part in this life. Many seem to think it unmanly
to let others see that there is a feeling of affection or sympathy or love
even in one's own family. A father in writing of a visit to his own
son, soldier in one of the camps,
tells of his relief and happiness
in at last being able to show
his real feeling of love for his own
son. Years of repression has en-chained the pleasure of at last
being able to speak or write as his heart dictated. In a letter published in the American he says:

"But for the fathers—the most of us have tried hard to simulate a brave exterior, while we have often
had to choke back emotions, that we held in check as we looked in the face of one whom we never appreciated as we do now, when we have
said the good-bys we have been
dreading to say."

And then there is another angle
of compensation to me: My boy has always lived at home, and we have easily taken our love as a matter of course, as a thing not to be worn on our sleeves, as it were. We were not of a demonstrative nature. Sometimes I have thought that we have in the past been rather too chary of
showing our feelings to each other,
but I guess most fathers with sons
will know what I mean when I say
we were not given to much gush
over each other, and that we carried
this rather to far in not allowing
our real feeling expression.

All that is changed now. I feel that I am to be envied the privilege
I have to write to my boy my real feelings toward him. There is so much you can say now of real feelings, and so much he is saying in his letters that is showing the deep love between us which had never found expression before. You know how it is, you who have sons among these boys today. I sometimes pity
those who are losing the experience
that I am having today, of finding
and sounding the depths of fatherly
love for my own. It all makes for pride, and gratification too."

Try it once at any rate. Give thought and utterance today to all
the good that you would rejoice to have come to friends, to your family,
to yourself, to your country. Pray
for all that they won't turn around
and hit us in the nose when we are not looking.

JACKSONVILLE BOYS
WRITE FROM CAMP LOGAN

Chester Reeve and Arthur Harmon
Write Interesting Letters to Relatives—Both Well Pleased With Service.

Interesting letters have been received from Camp Logan from Chester Reeve of the 123d artillery, and Arthur J. Harmon, member of the first company M. P. 33d division.
Both men are established at the Houston, Tex., camp and their letters shed new light on camp life
in the south.

Mr. Reeve's letter follows:
Houston, Tex., Oct. 16.

Dear Grandmother:
"How are you and all the rest of the folks? I hope you are all well.
I am well and having a fine time.
It is hot and dusty here. I am in the 123d artillery, Camp Logan, Battery D. I like it much better than I did in the infantry. We drill 8½ hours a day. We have fine meals.
Take a hike every Thursday, generally going 12 miles. We have more
to learn than we did in the infantry.
We have a big camp here and there are lots of men in the camp. Do you know any of the boys from Jacksonville that are here? If so,
let me know, for I would like to see some of the boys from there.
Will you please thank all of the church people for their kindness and
for the interest they have taken in
me. I certainly do appreciate their kindness and the gifts they have sent
me. I received a letter from mother
the other day and they are all well
at home. Please send me the Jacksonville Journal.

Yours,
Chester M. Reeve.
123d Artillery Camp Logan,
Houston, Texas.

Letter from Arthur Harmon
"I suppose you will be surprised to learn that I am in a new organization. They split our company up and picked sixty of the best and
biggest men in our company for Military Police and I happened to be among the ones chosen. I is considered quite an honor because you have to be right up to snuff to get in the Military Police and the best part is you get eleven dollars
increase in wages on the month and swell clothes, for you have to be dressed up all the time.

The majority of the men in Co. B
were put in the artillery which is a good branch of service but is much harder work than the M. P. and not as good salary.

We are mounted also, each man
has his horse, saddle and bridle to take care of besides his guns, clothes
and billy club. I think I will like this much better than infantry although it is rather dangerous in a big camp like this. We are at liberty to go all over town and can go any place or ride street cars anywhere
free of charge.

We just moved over today and haven't got fully settled yet. We are about a mile from where we were;
we are right at the entrance of the camp and the street car runs right
up to our company, which saves us
a long walk through camp when
we wish to go any place.

The weather is sure great down
here; it is almost too warm to wear
a shirt in the daytime but cool
enough to sleep under a couple of blankets at night.

(Arthur Harmon was formerly a private in Co. B, 5th Inf., and he sent home a duty roster of the company.

His address is

108th Trains, Camp Logan, Houston, Tex.)

We got one load of coal anyway.

There would be fewer automobile
accidents if drivers would learn that they cannot pass each other on the same track.

Everybody in Jacksonville seems to be practicing conservation except
the park board.

The corner has been turned in high prices says Mr. Hall who hope that they won't turn around
again and hit us in the nose when we are not looking.

It might be well for coroner's juries and courts that turn men
loose who have killed someone to suggest that they cease carrying firearms. It might save the life of some other person.

Plenty of deer are promised hunters in the northern woods this year.
It seems, however, that hunters prefer to pot each other rather than the game.

FRED BRAY WRITES OF LIFE AT FT. SHERIDAN

Jacksonville Boy Gives Interesting
Account of Trench "Warfare" Carried on at the Camp the Past Week

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Oct. 19, 1917.
Editor Journal:

Altho domestic war news is painfully tame these days, I think that you might be interested in the things
which have been going on this week
here at Sheridan in the trenches.
The R. O. T. C. men have spent
all week in the trenches, and have had a glorious time for it has rained
every night. They came out tonight plastered stiff with mud, and Captain Bertrand of the Alpine Chas-
seurs, a plucky little Frenchman who teaches trench-warfare here, was delighted at the sight. He said enthusiastically, "Aha! Ze one covered sight!" Ze American soldier covered his ze mud!" The Captain admits that our mud here is "nice," but that it is not nearly "so"—what you call it
—sticky, as ze mud at Verdun." It is hard for a patriotic American to believe that even France could have
"nicer" mud than we have, but if French mud sticks any tighter than that which we've had all week, we're unanimously in favor of giving
France the honor due her.

One of our sergeants who was on duty at a first-aid station in the trenches last night told me the borrow some boots and I could go into the dug-out with him, and that no
one would know but that I belonged
there. You see, we've had constant sham battles here all week, and everything has been as war like as possible. The place has fairly bristled
with guards, and without the pass
word I couldn't have gone ten feet
thru the trenches, but I started out
last night armed with the magic
word and a pair of hip boots, both of which came in most handy. There was about two feet of water where-ever I stepped and at times I got stuck and thought I should have to stend the night there. I had seen these trenches hundreds of times in daylight, and thought that I knew them perfectly, but there are five miles of them winding in every direction, and at times I turned up
in most unexpected places.

It is most disconcerting to round
a sharp corner and find yourself
staring into the muzzle of a gun and hear a crisp "Halt!" I encountered
scores of these sentries, and in numerous dug-outs I found the men
huddled around trench stoves waiting orders. You see, the "enemy"
held the trenches across the ravine,
and any movement over there was
promptly telephoned to the Headquarters dug-out, from which place
orders were "phoned to the other
dug-outs."

At different times during the night
there were attacks and counter-attacks, and the firing was so intense
that I don't see how the people slept for miles around. The rifle fire was not so bad, for we soon got used to
that, but the roar of the artillery was deafening.

I found a Y. M. C. A. dug-out with wooden boxes for desks, and candles
for lights. There was a supply of writing materials on hand and a big mail box which I am told was not large enough to accommodate the
first letters written "from the trenches."

It was impossible to visit every part of the winding lines of trenches
in one night, and somehow I failed
to find the dug-out where the cooking was done. It seems that instinct ought to have guided me there, but somehow it didn't. I know there is a kitchen however somewhere underground, for the "eats" were brought around at midnight, and
this morning in covered buckets and
everybody ate out of his aluminum mess-kit. One of the fellows who had a safety razor with him this morning, was unable to get any hot water to shave with, so he used his coffee for making warm lather. I know what the coffee was like, and
don't blame him much for not drinking it, but it made a most unusual looking lather. Sort of looked as if the fellow had fallen on his face in the mud.

Nothing was shot, of course, except blanks, but at that we had one fellow during the night who was painfully, if not seriously, hurt by
being shot, accidentally, in the leg.
The paper-war went into his leg. We put on a first-aid dressing, and then
tried to carry him thru the trenches
to a place near the ambulance. The mud and water made it almost impossible to stand, much less carry a full grown man, so two of us literally took him "over the top" and carried him to the ambulance and sent to the hospital. There were many number of sprains, scratches and bruises, and a very few men simply
had to give up under the strain and
go to the hospital to recuperate.
The strain has been terrific, but the men are keyed up to such a state of enthusiasm, and they are so determined to win commissions, that not
a one has given up if he could possibly help it. Any man who can stand up under the work, that is pil-laged him here, surely deserves a commission. You see I can say that because I am not in the R. O. T. C.
myself, but am close enough to
watch things from a short distance
and see things as they are.

The trenches are being formally evacuated tonight, and I imagine the natives will not be sorry, for they will get their first peaceful night's sleep this week.
Sincerely,
Fred Bray.

WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF SOLDIER LIFE

Frank Branstetter Writes Newsy Letters from Camp Zachary Taylor to Relatives—Speaks Highly of Service and of Army Y. M. C. A.

Relatives in this city have received a number of letters from Frank Branstetter, who is among the Morgan county men now at Camp Taylor, Ky. The young man writes in an interesting way of the camp life and expresses himself as very well satisfied with his work in the ambulance corps. He also speaks enthusiastically of the comforts furnished by the Army Y. M. C. A. The letters follow:

This morning about 8:30 o'clock our officer told us to hang around our barracks as we were going to be moved. About 10 o'clock two big hospital trucks came along and we threw our bed ticks, blankets and baggage in them and they lit out, then about 10:30 we formed in line and marched down to our new home. We didn't know where we were going until we arrived there. It is a "base hospital." It sure is some place. Everything is simply grand; electric lights, shower baths, etc., it is about one mile from where we were. About 11:30 o'clock we marched back and had dinner—some dinner, too—then we were off to do as we pleased until 5 p. m. and after supper we marched back to our bunks. We were told not to bring our coats, so we put our beds in the floor lined up along the floor on each side of the room. Later it will be turned into a ward. It is about 85 or 100 feet long and about 30 feet wide. There must be a dozen or so of these buildings. There are two rows of them, and there is a hall built along the back of them, so you can go out the back door, down the hall, to the next ward, and so on without going out side.

I have met most of the first and second bunch of Morgan county boys. I went over to their barracks this afternoon and made a long visit with Albert Elliott's brother, Bill Eads and others; all fine boys.

You never see a skinny or a sickly looking guy—only when a new bunch comes in, when they stay here about two or three weeks they look like giants; look like they could "break you two." Swaboda would have no luck down here.

It is hard to realize how big this place is. It is either 7 or 8 miles each way. I am not sure which. Jacksonville is between two and two and a half miles each way, so you can get some idea of the size by comparing them. You can look in any direction and all you see is buildings. I think there are about 1,200 of them.

We are under Capt. Cline, and he is a fine officer. All of the first and second Morgan county boys are under him and they worship him, but I have only seen him once or twice.

We had a bum car coming down here, just a common, old day coach. No one could sleep, but we had all the sleep we wanted when we got here. I went to bed at 4:45 Saturday evening and didn't wake up until about 5:45 Sunday morning.

The Y. M. C. A. buildings are certainly fine things. I was in one this afternoon. The K. C.'s have their buildings here but I have not been in any so far, but will go to them in the morning if I can.

The Morgan county boys were very lucky. We are all in the hospital end of it. That is non-combatant work. We will not have to shoulder a rifle and we will not have to do much drilling. We will be given lectures on dressing wounds, medicines, etc., before long. The food is substantial and I have had plenty of it so far. We had ice cream for dinner.

We took a hike this morning, gone about 2 hours, and when we got back I was feeling like taking another one, but some of them were all in. We got back from our hike about 10:30 a. m., then we were given our first vaccination. They call it "two scratches and a shot in the arm." They take a little injector with a long needle on the end of it and stick it in your left arm up close to the shoulder and squirt some dope in there. They jab it in your arm about two inches but keep it just under the skin, then when they do that you get your two scratches—that is, they scratch your arm in a couple of places, one is for small pox and the other for typhoid fever. Neither one of them hurt.

We are in an ambulance company and I expect we will stay in it.

This is sure some bunch of guys. Everyone is happy, and have more "pep" than a dozen men who stay at home. When this is all over with I wouldn't take a million dollars for what I will know then. I am now in the Y. M. C. A. and I guess there are three or four hundred others.

We are sleeping in the base hospital. We have regular beds, just like any hospital has. We are the lucky bunch as long as we stay there, but I think we will be moved back to our first place when it is finished, then we will be just across the street from our dinner hall; also about 100 feet from the rest of the Morgan county boys. As it is now we have to walk a mile to our meals, but that don't seem far now. When I get home I expect to walk to Springfield every morning before breakfast, maybe farther.

Camp Taylor, Ky.

Wed., Oct. 9th, 1917.

Dear Father and Mother Bunch:

I guess you feel slightly because you haven't received a letter from me, but letter writing doesn't always turn out like you plan it. Sometimes I will start a letter in the morning and when I am started good we get orders to "fall in," then we take a hike or maybe we will drill, or do other exercises, and I don't get to finish until night or the next day. The drill work we get now is called "infantry drill." Everyone gets it when he gets here, but before long a great deal of our time will be taken up with medical lectures and our drilling will be cut down. The drilling we are doing now is what makes a "man" of one. I can feel myself grow. When I get back I will be a monument of strength.

Before we start out on a hike, the sergeant asks if there is anyone with sore feet or who don't feel like going. If so, he gets to stay at his barracks, and has nothing to do until we get back. Some of the boys have sore feet and others are sore all over, but it don't seem to bother me. When we get back I usually feel as good as when we started. We generally go out about three miles, then take a rest of twenty or thirty minutes and start back. The first day we went out everything was lovely until we started back, and one of the boys from Jersey county was lying down and didn't get up when called, so we went over to wake him up but found he was "all in," and the sergeant sent some boys over to a house and they got a cot and some of the fellows carried him in on it. When we got back they took him to the hospital. He is still there. Don't know how he is. They are going to operate on him as he was ruptured.

This life is not as bad as you think it is. The boys are well cared for and get plenty to eat. For dinner today we had vegetable soup, and it was good, just my kind, with everything in it. I went back for the second dish and could have had a third one if I had wanted it. I don't know when we will get our uniforms, but guess it will be about a month. The forty-eight who came down have only got their hats, leggings and shoes, but look for their suits Saturday, then they can go to Louisville when they have time off. You should see the motor trucks here. They are big enough to carry a house and then some, and they sure go fast.

I am sending you a map of this place and will mark some of the places on it. Someone said this place was eight miles square, but I don't believe that.

I wouldn't give our back yard for the whole state of Kentucky. The soil is old yellow clay, good for nothing. I don't see how farmers raise anything, and to look at the farms I don't think they do raise much but a little tobacco and sweet potatoes. I am going to write a couple of cards and then go to the barracks and take a bath.

Frank Branstetter.

REMARKABLE INVENTION BOON FOR HOUSEWIVES

For over thirty years housewives have been using coal and wood ranges with the oven built in the range body—thus requiring a great deal of stooping. To eliminate this uncomfortable stooping J. E. Leonard of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, conceived the idea of placing the oven above the range body so as to make it easily accessible.

The heat from the body flue is carried to the oven flues through a large asbestos insulated pipe. Thus the heat travels its natural way—upward—which makes the oven heat quickly and evenly.

Eighteen different styles of these ranges are now made, known as the Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges. C. E. Hudgin Furniture Co. has secured the agency for these remarkable ranges and they invite the housewives of this community to attend a special demonstration to be held at their store next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.—Adv.

Some Activities of County Advisors

The campaign in progress for a county advisor is bringing out many inquiries as to the work done by advisors. Many farmers have the idea that an advisor will come to them and tell them how to operate their farms. No advisor would do this. It is not in his line and besides with upwards of three hundred farmers who pay for his services by subscribing he will be kept busy answering their calls for farm visitations, with organizing and co-operating agriculture in the county, and helping as much as he can those farmers who do not subscribe. The following reports from advisors in various sections show some of their activities:

That the farmers of 18 counties in Wisconsin have found the county agricultural agents an unqualified success in aiding them in the production and marketing of their crops and in interesting the boys in better farming, is the opinion of the leaders in the movement.

"The county agricultural agent is proving his worth in Wisconsin by practical instruction for the young folks, and by demonstration and co-operation with the farmer in solving his most pressing problems," recently said a farmer living in one of the counties employing the agents. "To improve the cattle industry of their counties the agents are introducing purebred live stock, exchanging sires, testing herds for butter fat production, weeding out tubercular animals, inoculating for the prevention of black leg, helping in the organization of live stock clubs, demonstrating the most economical ways of feeding, and finding the best markets for live stock and dairy products. "In grain farming the agents are helping the farmers in introducing and developing pure bred grains adapted to local conditions. In the production of certified seed potatoes in which Wisconsin leads the Union, the county agent has been an important factor."

The county agent's office is a co-operative one between government, state, county and individual, to organize and co-operate and to transmit agricultural knowledge from one farmer to another, from government and state to the individual, and from the farmer to the state and government. Co-operation is our middle name.—Agt. A. R. Chase, Wasco County, Ore.

In Marshall County, Kan., County Agent Williams has done more good work in co-operation with the government in the control of hog cholera, which is established in his county. His good seed campaign was very successful.

In Gogebic Co. (Mich.), Co. Agt. J. F. Kadonsky finds farm engineering a live topic among the farmers. The planning and constructing of dairy and horse barns, barn ventilation and efficient water systems are some of the subjects being handled by the various communities.

K. A. Kirkpatrick, Hennepin county, (Minn.), agent, is doing great work with township and neighborhood institutes. They have been held in practically every center in the county, and various subjects, such as live stock, silos, home economics, etc., taken up in turn.

Under the direction of Agt. Arthur G. George, Madison county (Mich.), the farmers are making county-wide tests of self-feeders and hand feeding. They are also keeping records to see how close to 1,000 pounds of pork they can raise from each brood sow.

Mr. Bartter is spending a great deal of time with the dairy men of his community. He is especially emphasizing the use of balanced rations and cow-testing associations, the value of good seed, the treating of oats for smut and an intelligent study of soil conditions with the proper use of manure and how to supplement them with fertilizers.

"Probably one of the most important lines of work for farm bureaus for the future is the standardizing of crops. As it is, no two men grow the same variety of any one crop. The bureau hopes to find the varieties of different crops grown that are best adapted to our soil and climatic conditions and then get the farmers to grow one or two of the best varieties and improve that variety by selection."—T. W. Vann, Chemung county (N. Y.) Agent.

County Agent Burger held a large number of canning demonstrations and finds that after four years of this work, with demonstrations held each year at the same place, that the interest is constantly increasing.

County Agent J. M. Gray, Gaston county, North Carolina, recently spent the greater part of a week distributing a carload of tin cans which had been purchased cooperatively by the canning clubs in the county.

C. P. West, the new county agent in Sawyer county, Wis., is importing grade and thoroughbred cattle into his county and is showing the farmers how to prepare their stables in order to make the better stock successful.

Clarence Henry, the assistant leader of county agents in Indiana, is making a campaign to organize special groups in the counties to augment the work of the county agents. He is now forming live stock and breeders' associations.

A. L. Paschall, Cochise county (Ariz.) agent, is strong for community action in exterminating animal pests. He is cleaning up his territory by the formation of anti-pest clubs and correlating their actions with already existing organizations through his office.

County Agent Marshall, Gibson county, Ind., has been conducting a campaign in Hessian fly control and there is a demand for work from all parts of the county. He says his membership is showing more interest in the control work than in any county project ever handled in the past three years.

County Agent McCord, Morgan county, Colo., has been conducting a series of 18 school house meetings with a program given by musicians, readers, domestic science and agricultural instructors, remaining an afternoon and evening at each point. He says this is the most systematic and far reaching series of extension meetings he has ever had.

County Agent Bliss of Scott county, Ia., has had a busy time the last few weeks with colt shows, picnics, grange meetings, county association picnics, seed corn selection campaign, live stock breeders tours, etc. The work is on firm basis in this county.

The cashier of a Hempstead county, Ark. bank says that since that county has had an agricultural agent the savings accounts of the local banks have increased more than 100 per cent.

County Agent Burrell, Warrick,

county, Ind., made a visit to all the township teachers' institutes and spoke for thirty minutes at each place on the value of teaching agriculture and the value of legumes.

Count Agent Kell, Pulaski county, Ind., is visiting the pure bred live stock farms giving the farmers an opportunity to buy or find out the source of live stock as well as a place to sell.

County Agent Wells, Sullivan county, N. H., reports that the farmers in his county seem to understand the work much better this year and discuss it more fully. One remarked to Mr. Wells, "I get more out of the farm management work than any other work you are doing." One whose labor income was a minus said, "I am glad to know and I shall try to do better next year."

Early last spring, T. S. McCulloch, Posey county, Ind., agent started a Holstein Calf club. One hundred calves were distributed to as many boys, a twelve months' note being taken in payment by the Mt. Vernon National bank. Thirty of these notes were paid off during the first sixty days, and the county agent says that practically all of them will be paid off before maturity.

Arthur G. George, Madison county, (Neb.) agent, has held a series of hog butchering meetings throughout his county. The killing of the hogs and the cutting up of the carcasses were under the guidance of experts who not only brought out the best methods but also used the best tools, explaining all the "whys" and "wherefores" thereof.

County Agent Burger of Black Hawk county, Ia., reports that during seed corn selection demonstrations 107 demonstrations were held and the attendance was 2,300 people. One hundred and fifty thirty-car samples were entered at the county fair in competition for prizes.

Palmer B. Edgerton, the new county agent in Rock Island county, Ill., has lost no time in getting down to business. He has begun in the seven townships of the county to form local organizations. One director from each township is named and he will become executive official of the league. It is the purpose of the leaders in that county to have every man, woman and child in the county belong to the organization through one of its branches.

The Real Value

Many farmers have a decidedly wrong idea of the real object of the bureau. Too many of them still feel that it is something that is being forced upon them, but this is not the fact, for the whole idea is one of service and help and can only be useful when the bureau has the sympathy and co-operation of the farmer himself. If he fails to give those he has no one to blame but himself. I have noticed that the live, wide awake, ambitious farmers are taking advantage of what the farm bureau has to give and are co-operating with the county agent in a great many ways and so far as the officers of the farm bureau are concerned those are the men who ought to have and are going to get all the assistance the bureau can give them. We have no time to spend trying to persuade indifferent men to accept of what the bureau has to give.—A. C. Hurn, secretary, Windsor county, (Vt.), Farm Bureau.

J. W. Dana, C. A., Chittenden county, Vt., has been collecting data as to the percentage of oats smut in untreated fields. He has found it to vary from 7 to 14 per cent with practically none affected where the seed was treated. Several believed they had no smut but were soon convinced. One said, "I have learned one thing.

JACKSONVILLE TRIMS QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL

Take Game Marked by Constant
Wrangling by Score of 14 to 13—
Local Team Outclasses Visitors
Throughout Contest.

In a game marked by constant wrangling between the officials and members of both teams Jacksonville defeated Quincy at football 14 to 13 on Illinois field Saturday afternoon. While Jacksonville has a number of first class officials all of them were out of town officiating Saturday. Word was sent to Quincy to bring an official and they promised to do so. However, they arrived without one and the officiating was done by Hall, coach of the Quincy team and Hufford of Jacksonville.

It soon became evident that Hall did not intend to let his team lose if it could be helped. Jacksonville scored first and kicked goal and looked to clearly outclass the Quincy team. However, Hall then began inflicting penalties on the locals and kept them kicking the ball. Had the officiating been done by neutral officials Jacksonville probably would have won by a score of probably four or five touchdowns to one.

Jacksonville uncovered the best football that she has played this year and it looks as tho Coach Hoover has finally gotten the boys to going. The locals gained probably three times as many yards by straight football as did Quincy. However, when they would get within striking distance of the visitors' goal Hall would inflict a penalty. Most of these penalties were for alleged holding and offside.

Jacksonville played a great defensive game and with the exception of a forward pass that Quincy got away with for her first touchdown compelled the visitors to kick. The line held well and on the offense the locals showed some of the best interference that has been seen on Illinois field in some time.

On the offense Reeve, Ferguson, Pierce and Green tore great holes in the line and circled the ends time and again. Tholen played great football both on offense and defense and Ben to and Vieira did good work on the ends. Vieira in his first game looks to be a star. He got down the field fast and tackled the runner in his tracks and also was good at receiving forward passes. In fact the entire team played sterling football and the line men easily outcharged the visiting line.

Jacksonville Scores First
Jacksonville received the kickoff and immediately carried the ball back for two first downs. Jacksonville then made first down in two tries at the line and were penalized for holding. Quincy intercepted a forward pass. After failing to gain in an attack on the line Quincy attempted a kick and Jacksonville fell on the ball. Jacksonville by a series of line plays and end runs carried the ball over for a touchdown. Reeve making the score. Ferguson kicked goal. Score, Jacksonville, 7; Quincy, 0.

Jacksonville kicked to Quincy and the ball was carried back to the center of the field. Quincy executed a pretty forward pass that caught the Jacksonville defense asleep and Farrar ran for a touchdown. The first attempt at goal was missed and Referee Hall wanting the score tied said Jacksonville was offside and gave Quincy another trial and the goal was made. Score, Jacksonville 7; Quincy, 7.

The remainder of the first half the ball alternated between the teams, each being compelled to kick. There was lots of time taken up with wrangling between the officials and players.

Second Half
Jacksonville kicked to Quincy. The ball was carried by ten yards. Quincy could not gain and kicked. Jacksonville could not gain and the ball went to Quincy on Jacksonville's ten yard line. Quincy put the ball over on an end run. Goal was missed. Score, Jacksonville 7; Quincy 13.

Quincy kicked to Jacksonville and the locals started a rushing attack mixed with forward passes. However, as fast as Jacksonville would make a gain, Hall, who was umpiring, would call a penalty for holding, offside, or some other thing. Jacksonville finally got the ball on downs on Quincy's 20 yard line. On the first play Fierke went around the end for a touchdown. Hall again called a penalty but Weddell who was acting as head linesman said there was no violation of the rules and Referee Hufford allowed the touchdown. Ferguson kicked goal. Score, Jacksonville, 14; Quincy, 13. The remainder of the game the ball went over on downs several times, Quincy kicking to Jacksonville as the final whistle blew. The lineup:

Jacksonville	Quincy

Tholen	lg
Garvin	lg

D. Smith	rg
Arter	rt
Vieira	re

AMERICA TO HER SONS

(By Daniel M. Henderson of The Vigilantes)
I send you forth—but I too cross the water!
I am your comrade where the shrapnel rains!
I slay with you—to save the world from slaughter;
I bleed with you—lest Freedom's great heart drains!
I know what issues wait upon your legions—
I know that heaven and hell are joined in France!
I must march with you when in those dread regions
The drums of God are beating your advance.

"I send you forth,"—no, rather, you were praying
That I should let you lead me overseas!
I heard your voices plead through my delaying;
Your clear young eyes saw first my destiny!
You led me to your mountain-top of vision!
You cried to me to make the sacrifice!
You spurred my wakened soul to its decision—
And then you gave yourself to pay the price!
Press forward, soldiers, on your high endeavor—
Your road is mine, wherever lies your goal!
Sail on, brave seamen! War's tide cannot sever
Your spirits from the grapple of my soul!
Winged warriors, I shall soar on eagle pinions
To highest heaven, that we may not part!
Go forth, my sons, where Death has his dominions—
You cannot fare beyond your nation's heart!

OUR SOLDIERS IN THE FIGHT

As Reported to The Vigilantes

Recent dispatches from France tell that German prisoners are disgusted with the action of their officers whom they charge with holding back and refusing to expose themselves to the risks of war. Apparently our officers are not adopting these Teutonic tactics. On the contrary, it appears that the whole Expeditionary Army has been tremendously worked up and stimulated over a story of headlong daring in which three American generals figure. The first news of this to reach this country appears in a letter recently received by Juliaa Street of The Vigilantes. It is from an American college boy serving in France, and reads as follows:

"The American soldiers over here have been gaining in impressiveness. We are all proud of them. There is a story going around, and I hear it from officers who say they were present, that three of our newly-appointed generals who were invited to witness the recent French attack north of Verdun, asked if they might make the attack. So, instead of standing back on the hill, they 'went up and over' with the French soldiers. At any rate the story gained credence and the Allies' troops have gone wild about it. It has raised a wonderful confidence in our whole army.

"The attack itself was a marvelous thing. The strength and the spirit of the French troops was a surprise to all of us, even here, where we know them so well. They went forward so fast that they had to stop to wait for their own barrage to advance ahead of them. The artillery preparation, which had been going on for four days, was perfect. More and more the Allies are using up shells in place of men. The number of French lost was almost unbelievably small. There were two barrage fires, by the way, one to protect the infantry advance and one behind the German lines, which accounts in some measure for the great number of German prisoners taken. But the Boche are willing prisoners. One hundred and twelve of them, for instance, deserted from a single Saxon regiment the night before the French infantry advanced.

"Petain repudiates the great offensive idea. A series of short quick jabs all along the line is what he pins his faith on. With the English advance in Flanders and with the surprise of the Italian attack, it seems to be working splendidly. At any rate, France was never in such a state of hope and confidence before."

BACK FROM VICKSBURG.

The veterans who went to Vicksburg from Jacksonville have returned well pleased with the trip and are loud in their praises of the treatment they received while there and on the way. A battalion of soldiers was brought up from Houston, Texas, to be there to serve them and they, with others, were met at the station with 72 automobiles and taken to the camp grounds where good beds and food were provided without stint. Everything possible was done for their comfort and they are sure the people of the city by the river know how to be hospitable.

Some of them had rather untoward experiences. Comrade Armstrong was unable to finish the trip owing to weakness and indisposition and left the company and returned home all right.

Comrade Paul tripped and fell on the brink of a trench but Comrade Stevenson caught him and saved him from serious damage though he sprained his ankle a bit.

Major McDougall was troubled with lumbago and unable to enjoy the visit very much and landed at home in a rather weakened condition but hopes to be out Monday.

Comrade John R. Henry says he was the first of the whole lot to see Vicksburg during the war. He was a member of the 70th Ill. Infantry and was detailed with some others to escort to the Louisiana side of the river opposite Vicksburg a large number of Confederate soldiers, who were captured at Fort Donelson. That was in September, 1862 and while the rebels had the city he could look across the river and see it.

Edgar Masters of Murrayville was a traveler to the city yesterday.

A. H. Hall of the vicinity of Arcadia was a city visitor yesterday.

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious,
Clean Little Liver and Bowels

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother. If coated or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailments, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

LOVE OF MONEY
ROOT OF ALL EVIL

ELLA FLAGG YOUNG TELLS HOW TO USE THE MONEY TO ADVANTAGE.

Money Loaned Our Country Will Help Terminate the War.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Ella Flagg Young, former superintendent of the Chicago public schools and one of America's foremost thinkers and writers, has prepared the following article, "For My Country's Service." In it she points out clearly the paramount duty of every person to do his or her bit in aiding to win the war, particularly in assisting in floating the second Liberty Loan bond issue, for which a drive is now being made thruout the country.

"I must help carry the load," is the sentiment she suggests all should voice. "The siren's song so often hummed in the American ear—Uncle Sam has money; enough and to spare—shall not lull me into a state of indolence."

Mrs. Young has a real, vital message for you, your family, and your neighbors.

By Ella Flagg Young.

It was a slow process by which this Nation as a nation came to a full realization of the impossibility of our keeping out of the war. Many, as they cast their vote for the reelection of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency, said, "Drive will continue to keep us honorably out of the war." But the day came when their President and they saw that an honorable peace under existing conditions was not in the realm of the possible. A false, treacherous peace with intrigues, bribery and diplomatic delays to gain time is execrable. When a nation becomes convinced that deception has been systematically practiced upon it, but one course is possible—to make conditions for a stable peace whose terms shall insure the obligation of the signatories to make "human right" and international custom permanent.

The observance of human right is commonly referred to as an ideal. Granting that it is an ideal, one is constrained to ask if civilization regards the ideal in human relations as unattainable. The Republic of the United States of America is founded on the inalienable rights of humanity. The America has not yet achieved her ideal of the inherent rights of the human being, yet her people have so far progressed that none can stand unapproving of the endeavor to embody an ideal in the terms of peace.

The unwritten body of rules governing the intercourse of nations, particularly on the high seas, touches closely the economic interests of agriculture, commerce and industrial communities. The incorporation of that body into the terms of peace is easily deemed practicable.

Among the millions of Americans are some who find in the President's idealistic explanation of our aim—to make the world safe for democracy—ample pronouncement of the terms which America's representatives should insist upon in a council of peace. There are others who could rest content if questions relating to commerce on the high seas, partial disarmament, the Monroe doctrine, and the rehabilitation of Belgium and northern France are settled in accordance with the ideas of the American people. A proportionally large part of the Nation understand and endorse the conditions embodied in President Wilson's proposals, which are both idealistic and practical. The militaristic group would make all discussion of terms of peace contingent upon the defeat of the page. "I have signed (Signed) Germany." This group forgets that the school teacher who, after punishing the boy, makes him stand before the class and say he is sorry that he did wrong has for the rest of his life to reckon with that boy's growth.

All of these groups are keenly interested in the terms of peace; but there is a law of human endeavor, which each individual member of every group must comprehend and take into account: With nations as with individuals, in the endeavor to achieve an aim, be it spiritual or ethical, social or political, the aspirant will always be confronted with physical obstacles, with material conditions that must be controlled or overcome if victory is to crown the effort.

Everybody who would serve a cause to the utmost of his or her ability will find himself obliged to give to himself answer to the question, What can I do along material lines to bring our idea of our duty to a successful issue? An admirable illustration is President Wilson's answer when he confronted himself with that question. Tho he is devoting his thought and energy to the conditions and demands attendant upon the conduct of the war, yet he replied with subscriptions that were large for a man who has always been on a salary—subscriptions to both the Red Cross and the Liberty Loan. As the President added his savings to those of his fellow citizens, he gave and he loaned for his country's service, because he knew that thought alone would not bring success to our great adventure for our people and for the peoples of the small nations.

Today in the city of Washington the culture and temperament of the American people are apparent to even a casual observer. On the streets, in the cafes and restaurants, everywhere one meets the men in khaki; many of them are accompanied by their wives and children, some by their parents, others by their comrades. The city is filled far beyond its normal capacity. Neither the crowded accommodations nor their extremely high cost give rise to complainings. The women folk of the men enrolled in the military branch of the Army are as calm and gentle as the wives of men belonging to the industrial branch, men who are not going to the trenches or the battle field. There is an expression of quiet determination common to all; occasionally a far-away look steals over the face of the soldier, the wife, the father or the mother, but the indication of sadness is momentary only.

Not only in Washington and its vicinity are people saying the final word cheerfully to those who have answered the call to arms, but where ever camps have been established the American home is extending the hand and saying "Godspeed." Who does not know that at least two motives influence him to an act that is not habitual? And so the onlooker notes two desires influencing home folks and comrades: Preeminent, the desire to have the last impression on the soldier's mind that of love (or friendship) and confidence in his integrity on the mission taking him abroad; subordinate, the strong, the American desire to see for oneself just what the Government is doing for the great Army it has in training.

Visitors return home with a well-defined idea of the tremendous task of supplying food and equipment which confronts the Government. They have a better conception of the possibilities of hunger and weakness in their soldier boys, and of defeat for the Army America sends to France and Belgium unless the Government proves equal to meeting this extraordinary demand on the resources of the country.

The supreme effort of patriotism that with a "Godspeed" bade sons and husbands go forth to battle; the clearer comprehension of the problems of food and equipment that confront the Government, both will be worse than worthless if fathers, mothers, children, and friends do not make strenuous endeavor to help bear the material, the financial burden. We must each and all say, "I must help carry the load. The siren's song so often hummed in the American ear—Uncle Sam has money; enough and to spare—shall not lull me into a state of indolence." The effort and the comprehension failing to make one put the shoulder to the wheel are worse than worthless, because the moral fiber is weakened when a deep emotion is combined with an intellectual insight and the combination results in nothing.

Sometimes we hear it said that money is the root of all evil. The speaker quotes incorrectly. "The love of money is the root of all evil." Money loaned for our country's service will help to keep vigorous the men from home, who are fighting for our cause in a foreign land; it will cheer those men to know that the folks at home have loaned money for the service of our country. Some of them will be conscious of the economy and often extraordinary frugality in the home that made the loan a possibility. Character will be invigorated by the moral, intellectual, and physical exertion necessary to make for the country's service a loan, the amount of which will be dedicated by love of country, faith in the stability of the Government, and intelligence in expenditures.

That love of money, which would cry out, "Let the rich or let the poor or let anybody, excepting me, loan money for my country's service," should ponder the question, "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

It is the fashion for enthusiastic temperaments to contrast the moderation of Americans of today with the ardor of the people of 1861 upon entering the Civil War. Conditions are different. Public education has, however, infiltrated into the minds of an intelligent people those principles and standards of civilization that underlie devotion to one's country and to humanity. Under different conditions the tone and speech may differ, but the spirit is unchanged. As millions of men, women and children present themselves at the banks to file their subscriptions for the second Liberty Loan, each one will in reality be declaring as the money or the application is handed to the banker, "I lend this money for my country's service."

Springfield, Illinois, October 10, 1917.

Miss Elson Barnes, Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Miss Barnes:

The American Red Cross is holding a series of institutes thruout the country for the purpose of training workers in civilian relief. While the aim of these institutes is to develop workers of this sort, the training will meet the needs of all workers who are interested in constructive social effort. The topics are as follows:

1. The American Red Cross.
2. The Field of Home Service.
3. The Normal Family.
4. The Fundamental Methods of Home Service.
5. Health.
6. Home Economics.
7. Child Welfare.
8. The War and the Employment of Women and Children.
9. Re-education and Re-adjustment of the Disabled.
10. The Unstable Family.
11. The Personal Factor in Dealing With Disorganized Families.
12. Money Relief.
13. The Racial Equation.
14. Community Resources for Home Service.
15. The Use of Other Agencies in Home Service.
16. Qualifications and Responsibilities of the Home Service Worker.

The lecturers will be specialists in their various fields from Chicago, Springfield and the University of Illinois. The institute will be held from November 1st to December 15th. There will be two two hour lectures each week for a period of six weeks. Field work for a period of two five hours a week during the six weeks will also be required.

The tuition fee will be three dollars for the course. The institute will require the entire time of each student. The total expense, including board and room would amount to about sixty dollars. Those who live in nearby towns might commute to their homes, thus making the expense of the course merely nominal.

While the aim of the course is to develop Red Cross workers, the training afforded would be of great value to all workers interested in constructive social effort. Applications not filled by Red Cross delegates may be filled by any one who is interested in this particular line of work. Would you or any of your friends be interested in such course. If so, we would be glad to get in touch with you and give you more facts about the situation.

Very truly yours,
Margaret Bergen,
Secretary,
Civilian Relief Committee.
P. S. Applications should be received at this office not later than October 26th.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

Compulsory military drill for all men in College and Whipple Academy will be instituted during the coming week. Major E. C. Vickery, who had charge of the military drill last spring will again be in charge of the work. According to the vote of the Faculty the regular members of the football squad will be excused from drill for the present. Excuse is granted to these men for the present in view of the fact that the regular physical training which they are receiving is considered to be the best kind of preparation for military service. The wooden guns secured last spring through the courtesy of Mr. Andrew Russell will be used, and it is also expected that the men will be put into uniforms. Major Vickery will meet the corporals of last year on Monday and it is hoped that the whole body of men will begin their training on Wednesday.

President Rammelkamp, Miss Miriam Akers, of the Faculty, and Miss Ruth Weyand, of the student body, attended the important Y. M. C. A. conferences in Chicago on Tuesday. The Y. M. C. A. expects to secure the co-operation of the colleges of the country in raising the thirty-five million dollar war fund.

On account of the war and other circumstances the Y. M. C. A. found itself without any officers at the beginning of the year. Last Thursday a meeting of the men interested in the religious life of the College was held in the chapel. At this meeting it was decided to reorganize the Y. M. C. A. Francis Taylor, '19, was elected president, Clyde Land, '19, vice-president, and George Garrison, '21, secretary and treasurer.

The leader of the devotional meeting at Academy Hall Sunday evening will be Ernest Rutherford, '18.

Miss Robertson, of the Hanley-Fisher evangelistic party, was supper guest at Academy Hall Thursday evening. Miss Robertson spoke to the girls after supper.

Mrs. C. H. Rammelkamp and Mrs. G. Ames entertained the members of the Faculty for supper at the home of Professor and Mrs. Ames on Mound Avenue Wednesday evening. John Corrington, '21, has left College in order to enter the Signal Corps.

Fred Bray, '18, was in town Sunday and spoke at the meeting of the Devotional Association.

President Rammelkamp read a letter in Chapel Thursday morning from Henry Smith, who is in the American Expeditionary Force in France.

It is reported that Mac Edward Leach, '16, is now First Lieutenant in the Ambulance Corps stationed at Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. G. L. Moore of Springfield, was a campus visitor Friday.

The special course in telegraphy to train men for service in the Signal Corps of the United States Army will not be offered unless a sufficient number of men apply for the course. It is, therefore, again suggested that any drafted men of the county who may be interested should at once write to President Rammelkamp.

Floyd Lashmet, '20, of the Medical Department, now stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, was a visitor on the campus Friday.

If you need an alarm clock you need Big Ben. We also have Baby Ben.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

President Harker returned Tuesday from several days spent in and near Champaign. While there he attended a meeting of the Champaign I. W. C. Society held on Saturday, October 13th. On October 27th he expects to attend a meeting of a Chicago society. On Wednesday Dr. Hanley and party had charge of the Chapel exercises. Mr. Fisher greatly pleased the students by his singing. Dr. Hanley's address was most able, and was greatly enjoyed by all of the faculty and students.

A special class in European History covering the period from 1870 to the present time is being conducted by Miss Jennie Anderson of the Department of History. This course is open to any one in the city, who is interested in such work. It meets Friday evenings of each week. The course when completed will count for three semester college credits. The History Department is greatly indebted to Mrs. Irwin Dunlap for a valuable map which was presented to the college this last week.

President Harker addressed the students at Chapel Saturday morning on "Opportunities for Service and the Need of Real Sacrifice." Mrs. J. B. Harker returned Tuesday after several weeks spent in Minneapolis visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. R. Atherton. Mrs. A. M. Bruner of Rock Island has been visiting her daughter, Miss Lois, who is one of the seniors. Mrs. Coon, Conference Secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was in the city on Thursday to call on her daughter, Miss Leah, who is a student at the college.

Founders' Day was celebrated Friday, Oct. 19th in a most fitting manner. The exercises in the morning were well attended while in the afternoon the capacity of the hall was taxed to hear the Honorable W. J. Bryan. Mr. Bryan and President Harker are close personal friends. He was entertained by President and Mrs. Harker during his stay in Jacksonville.

FAIRM PROPERTY

For years ahead the outlook for the farm is most promising and the most far sighted farmers are using their credit and cheap money to get possession of farm lands while they can be had. What many men need just now is nerve to back their judgment.

(1) Monday we looked over 300 acres of land located one and a half miles from a good thriving town and three miles from a nice little village and seven miles from the county seat. One-half of this land is as fine black land as you could ask and well tilled. Of the other half it is all good level timber soil, except about 30 acres which is a little cut with draws and ditches but no hills. This farm is fenced in convenient sized fields. There are 30 acres in blue grass, 40 acres in meadow, 116 acres of wheat, 96 acres of corn, balance stubble. There is a brick house of six rooms, an excellent barn for 14 horses, two oat bins, corn crib and room for 30 tons of loose hay. The entire barn is concrete. There is a granary for 1500 bushels of grain, big implement shed and stock scales, a three room tenant house and other out buildings. The wheat crop alone this year sold for $5,000. For immediate sale and possession March 1st with taxes paid we can sell this farm at $125 per acre, or will exchange for a smaller prairie farm north or east of Jacksonville. This is your opportunity.

(2) Southeast of Woodson we have a farm of 80 acres with a new seven room house, new horse barn, good cattle barn and excellent hog barn and all in good condition. Farm is mostly in grass and can be had for $9000.

(3) 160 acres in the south part of the county of which one half is good black land and the balance all good farming land except a few acres near the barn. The land is in high state of fertility, all fenced, fair house and plenty of other buildings. Must be seen to be appreciated. Price, $150 per acre.

At War With Yourself!

HELP NATURE TO DEFEAT THE DISEASE IN YOUR BODY.

Keep up the fight; do not give up. Nature is trying to serve you in conquering the wrongs that may exist.

Red blood, vim, courage, vitality, all seem lacking. No wonder you are nervous and discouraged.

Why not call to your aid a strong, dependable ally? Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has for nearly fifty years proven its merits as a most powerful tonic and blood builder to the many thousands who have been returned to good health by its use.

Clear the coated tongue, get rid of unsightly skin trouble. Let this remarkable remedy rid your body of the impurities of the blood, let it tone and strengthen you. It often cures the lingering chronic cough.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is absolutely a herbal tonic, free from alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs. All druggists. Liquid or tablets.

BLUFFS, ILL.—"For a great many years I have been troubled with nervousness, stomach and heart trouble. I took several kinds of patent medicines and doctored with five different doctors but nothing seemed to do me much good. About eight years ago I had a bad spell; my heart would flutter and I thought I was going to die. My folks sent for a doctor and he came and left me some medicine and told me folks that I had but a short time to live. I took his medicine for a while and it did me no good, so I told my husband to go to town and get me some of Doctor Pierce's medicine as I thought that would help me. He went and got a bottle of Golden Medical Discovery and a bottle of Favorite Prescription and some Peppermint. I commenced to take them and in a few days I could see that they were helping me, so I kept on taking them for several months. I don't know how many bottles I took, but I got so much better that I could do all my housework and washing and ironing. Now when I feel bad I get a bottle of the 'Discovery' and take it, and it helps me right away."—Mrs. MARY E. BATTERY.

NOTICE TO SICK WOMEN

Positive Proof That Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound Relieves
Suffering.

Bridgeton, N.J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for inflammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terrible pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miserable that I could not sweep a room. I doctored part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt a change for the better. I took it until I was in good healthy condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedies to all women as I have used them with such good results."—Mrs. MILDRED T. CUMMINGS, 222 Harmony St., Penn's Grove, N.J.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence of the excellence of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the distressing ills of women such as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, backache, painful periods, nervousness and kindred ailments.

HEMBROUGH FAMILY

HAS FINE RECORD

Edward Hembrough, Member of Well Known Family Gives Experiences—Is Successful Raiser of Hogs and Cattle—Believes in Use of Tractor.

The neighborhood of Asbury and the name of Hembrough are indissolubly connected, and no family in Morgan county has borne a better reputation than has the Hembrough family. Some of them have gone to their long reward but the younger generation remains to honor those gone before. A short time since the writer had the pleasure of a visit at the home of Edward Hembrough about five miles southeast of Jacksonville. Mr. Hembrough may well be ranked among the first class farmers of the county. This year he had 15 acres of Turkey red wheat which yielded about 30 bushels to the acre of a good sample. He doesn't feed much of the straw but lets it rot and returns it to the ground. He has 139 acres of corn which will probably yield 60 bushels to the acre. He prefers the well known Reid Yellow Dent, which gives him good returns on his land. Mr. Hembrough was rather a pioneer in silo construction in this county and still sticks to that method of feeding. This year he put up from 11 acres 100 tons of silage which would be nearly 10 tons to the acre, or the equivalent of 4 tons of timothy hay, which is a very good showing as 2 tons of timothy to an acre is a good yield. While it is a little hard work to put away the stuff, when it is once in the silo it is easy to feed, requiring but a small amount of work.

Feeds Cottonseed Meal. Along with the silage Mr. Hembrough likes to feed cotton seed meal and sheep oats, the latter being used more on account of the high price of the meal. In this way he feeds a good number of stock and carries them thru in good shape.

Mr. Hembrough also handles hogs somewhat extensively and prefers the Jersey Reds. He is careful in the matter of inbreeding and sends away for the stock hogs so that his hogs are always clean and pure. He uses both separate hog houses and box stalls in a long shed, but does not stick to any one plan. He doesn't try for more than one litter a year, in March or April, and raises and fattens from 100 to 120 animals a year. The sows generally bring 6 or 7 pigs to a litter. He feeds them oats and corn dry and some slop. He doesn't push the pigs but gives plenty of clover pasture in the summer and carries them along and sells them when they are about 12 to 14 months old. The hogs follow the cattle and along from March to May and June they are ready to market.

Mr. Hembrough also handles some cattle, buying those weighing 850 to 900 lbs., generally at St. Louis. He picks out a good red style of steers hardly thinking it best to seek the thoroughbred Shorthorn or "white face" as they are too expensive. He buys in October or November and turns them out on the stalk fields. Then he gives them silage and shock corn and sheep oats and also some cottonseed meal, which he values very highly. In the spring he gives them grass and corn and some straw.

Tractor a Good Investment.

Mr. Hembrough is a successful user of a tractor, which he has had for two years. When the writer was there the tractor was buzzing across a shock corn field, pulling two 16-foot discs and doing the work of 8 horses and doing it well. He says he can cover by this means about double what 4 horses could do. As an instance of what the tractor accomplishes, he had a 20 acre field which he plowed earlier in the spring, but the heavy rain pounded down the dirt so it was impossible to do anything with it and he had to begin all over again. He went out onto it with the tractor the 18th of June, following the tractor with teams, harrows and planters, and finished planting the whole thing in a day and a half. He will plow with his tractor 8 or 10 acres a day, using 3 14-inch bottom plows. He also uses the tractor for filling the silo, pulling his self-binder, with which he can cut 16 acres of wheat a day. He and Mr. Reynolds have also bought a separator and now do their own threshing with this same tractor furnishing the power. It uses about 20 gallons of coal oil a day which costs from 8 to 10 cents a gallon. Mr. Hembrough feels that the tractor was a good investment.

BOY SCOUTS WILL SHOW PATRIOTISM

Will Begin a Campaign Selling Liberty Bonds Monday—Brady Brothers Show Window Donated to the Scouts for Headquarters.

The manner in which the Boy Scouts have undertaken the work of selling liberty bonds speaks well for the rising generation of the county in general and Jacksonville in particular. The little fellows are thoroughly awake and are taking up the business in a manner that shows that they are likely to succeed to a good extent. They had a meeting Friday night for explanation and instruction and were busy yesterday getting ready to start out tomorrow morning and work with a vim. It is expected that they will canvass the place thoroughly, calling on everyone at home and elsewhere, in order to take orders for liberty bonds. They do not take the money but take the application to the bank where the applicant does business and there he secures the bond. But they get the credit for the sale and the banks of the city are ready to help the boys as far as possible.

It was the intention yesterday afternoon to have a tower and for that purpose the boys had made arrangements with Priest's garage for a truck and a tower constructed in good shape with lumber contributed by the LaCrosse Lumber Company. The Johnson, Hackett & Guthrie truck was also promised the boys and they went out and secured a quantity of poles to construct the tower but they did not finish it owing to the weather but will probably do so tomorrow. Brady Bros. have given their windows for the use of the boys during the campaign and the decorations will make quite an imposing appearance in that place. All the boys have been distributing circulars and doing some solicitation but all orders will be dated tomorrow or later. Nearly 1,000 circulars were given out and others will follow. It is to be hoped that the people of the city, just as far as possible, will subscribe and encourage the boys in their work as it is very creditable and not only that but it is a lesson in patriotism and serving the country, and excellent training for the young.

Troop No. 2, with A. R. Weddel scout master, Lindsey Williamson, Aurelius Vosseller and Wylder Towle as patrol leaders, consists of Wilbur Madden, Lee Goebel, John Hackett, Paul Gard, William Hadden, Ernest Bray, Louis Leung, Leo Fraser, Kenneth Stickley, Roger Carter, Jack Westover, William McCarty and Russell Smith.

Troop No. 3, with F. E. Darr as scout master, consists of P. Hunt, R. Furry, T. O'Brien, A. Arter, F. Lynn, H. Irving, A. Wyatt, A. Bray, F. Imhoff, C. Sumpter, R. Reid, R. Reed, E. Darr, H. Furry, A. Capps, R. LaRue, H. Craig, A. Russell, H. Kamm, George Adams, F. Hobbs, H. Boston, K. Hillmeyer, J. Putnam, D. Ames and T. Young.

The boys will make an imposing array when they start out and it is hoped that they will have fine success.

THEN AND NOW.

In another article the writer gives the experience of Edward Hemm-brough who with his tractor and two teams broke up and planted 20 acres of corn in a day and a half. And the writer, who worked in the olden days on a farm, couldn't help making a comparison. In the days gone by those horses would have had to work hard to plow that land in five days. Two days more would have been necessary to harrow it properly, two days more to mark it off, supposing that a 3 runner sled was used for that purpose. Then to drop and cover. It would have required the work of our boys and four men at least four days longer. Compare this with the speed of the present day and certainly we are a rapid people.

COUNTY ADVISOR CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

Greater Part of County Has Been Canvassed by Sidney B. Smith—Work Will Be Completed in Towns This Week—Will Then Visit Individual Farmers—Pledges New Number 143.

Mr. Sidney B. Smith, representing the U. S. department of agriculture, who has been canvassing and speaking in Morgan county this week and assisting the Morgan County Farmers club to secure a county farm advisor, has visited the following communities: Liberty, Murrayville, Chapin, Concord, Lynville, Arnold, Orleans and Franklin, and from each has met a hearty response. Murrayville with its 28 subscribers leads the other communities but others have almost reached this number. Mr. Smith has not visited all the farmers in any of these communities and will try to go back to each of them before the campaign closes. He will be at Waverly next Tuesday and at Meredosia next Friday, canvassing the country in the day and speaking in the evening. He will drive in the County on Wednesday and Saturday. The rest of the week he will be busy in other counties but will be back in Morgan for all the succeeding weeks.

Up to this time 143 persons interested in agriculture of our county have signed pledges to pay $10 a year for three years to establish and maintain a farm bureau. It will require 325 pledges to sustain the work. It would seem that the necessary number will be secured as soon as Mr. Smith can visit the farmers, as but a very small part of the farming district in our county has been canvassed. Mr. Smith, who is a son of Circuit Judge E. S. Smith of this circuit, formerly our state senator, is a dairy farmer and lives on and operates the farm on the south side of the state road just this side of Washington park, Springfield, and who has been drafted in this work. He is desirous of closing the campaign in this county as soon as possible in order to get back to his own business.

Farmers who wish to sign pledges will find cards at each bank in the county. The following in addition to the list printed Friday morning have subscribed:

Alf G. Brockhouse, Tom H. Buckthorpe, C. E. Cox, J. E. Dobyns, C. E. Davis, Clifton Davis, Charles A. Gilbert, C. H. Gibbs, Wm. E. Gortert, C. H. Gibbs, William E. Gordon, R. S. Hamilton, J. T. ### REMARKABLE TRAVELERS

Howard Collins, Earl Bisque and James Vascen passed through the city recently on their way back home to Chicago after a trip from that city to Yellowstone National Park. The trip was made in Mr. Bisque's Ford car and the travelers were prepared for camping which they did a part of the time. Mr. Collins has a little eyesight but it is very defective and he and Mr. Bisque are graduates of the State School of the Blind, which they visited while in the city. Mr. Vascen is a native of Australia and both he and Mr. Bisque are totally blind. Mr. Collins was able to enjoy to a small extent the beauties and wonders of the park but the others had to depend on others for descriptions and have for enjoyment the ride and other things pertaining to the trip. They made the round trip successfully as far as Jacksonville and proceeded to the great city in good spirits after a pleasant visit at the State School for the Blind here. They left Chicago the first part of July and made the trip by easy stages.

Consider the reasons why, in the building of this range it requires inventive genius to construct it so there will be no levers to turn, plates to remove, or mechanism to get out of order, and yet do the work that all of these complicated parts used to do.

These improvements are patented; that is why this range is a distinctive specialty. That is why it is superior to all others. It burns coal or gas either separately or together. It is a complete coal range and a complete gas range all in one. We want to tell you about all of these conveniences and demonstrate them to you. When you call, be sure to ask for the Boiler-Iron Chief 3-Fuel Book. It's FREE.
